THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET.

How dear to this heart are the scenes of my childhood,
When fond recollection presents them to view!
The orchard, the meadow, the deep-tangled wildwood,
And every loved spot which my infancy knew;
The wide-spreading pond, and the mill which stood by it,
The bridge, and the rock where the cataract fell;
The cot of my father, the dairy-house nigh it,
And e'en the rude bucket which hung in the well—
The old oaken bucket, the iron-bound bucket,
The moss-covered bucket which hung in the well.
The moss-covered vessel I held as a treasure;
For often, at noon, when returned from the field,
I found it the source of an exquisite pleasure,
The purest and sweetest that nature can yield.
How ardent I seized it, with hands that were glowing!
And quicke to the white-pebbled bottom it fell;
Then soon, with the emblem of truth overruling,
And dripping with coolness, it rose from the well—
The old oaken bucket, the iron-bound bucket,
The moss-covered bucket which hung in the well.
How sweet from the green, mossy brim to receive it,
As poised on the curb, it leaned to my lips;
Not a full blushing goblet could tempt me to leave it,
Though filled with the nectar that Jupiter sips.
And, now far removed from the loved situation,
The tear of regret will intrusively swell,
As fancy reverts to my father's plantation,
And sighs for the bucket which hangs in the well—
The old oaken bucket, the iron-bound bucket,
The moss-covered bucket which hangs in the well.

I refer with pleasure and with no little pride to the work done in the college last session. The deportment of our pupils was well nigh faultless, their devotion to study, both at home and in the class room, far above the average, and their progress in their work most gratifying to the teachers, and so far as we have heard, to parents as well.

The teaching force for the coming session will, with one exception, be the same as it was last session. Miss Mattie Paxton and Miss Ellen Ballou continuing to occupy the positions which they have filled so long with such distinguished success and to the entire satisfaction of both the people and the patrons of the college. My own long and wide experience as an educator in some of the best schools in the country, qualifies me, I think, to pass judgment in such matters, and I herewith express the conviction that the work done in Stanford Female College is equal to every way to that anywhere and in any school of similar rank.

The girls and young ladies of this community have the opportunity of obtaining right at their own doors a broad, thorough, finished and literary and musical education; not surpassed in any institution of equal rank for the higher education of young women anywhere in the land.

In this connection and upon the record of the work done in the college last session, while expressing my hearty appreciation of the genuine good-will and the cordial support, both moral and financial, which I received from many of the very best people of the community amid the adverse circumstances under which we carried on our work last session, I respectfully solicit the patronage of the citizens of this town and the surrounding country for the new session which will begin Monday, Sept. 1. With their help the college will enter upon a new era of usefulness and prosperity. It may be well to state for the benefit of those who have not seen the college building, that the class rooms and the recitation hall have high ceilings, are well lighted and ventilated, and are furnished with comfortable desks and all needed appliances for successful school work. The boarding hall, which will accommodate comfortably about 140 pupils, is equipped with water works, electric lights and good, substantial furniture. As it opens immediately into the recitation hall, boarding pupils need not at any time be exposed to the weather in any way. For catalog address:

However slight at this time of year and in this climate, it is the forerunner of malarial.

A disposition to yawn, and an all tired out feeling even comes before the chill. Herbine, by its prompt stimulative action on the liver, drives the malarial germs out of the system, purifies the blood, tones up the system and restores health. 50c at Penny's Drug Store.

Of Shelby.

THERE will be a conference in New York between Chairman Griggs of the democratic Congressional committee; Chairman Cable, of the Executive committee, and Chairman Nixon of the Finance committee. The real object of the meeting is to decide upon the best means of raising funds. Chairman Griggs will report upon the desirability of making a strong effort against Representative Irwin, of Louisville. He will suggest as much aid as the committee can consistently send, both in the way of speakers and funds. He is also in favor of concentrating their main effort in Indiana to secure a democratic successor for Representative Hemaway, of the First district of Indiana. Tom Taggart also reports that there will be "something doing" in Charlie Landis' district, in Indiana.

OUR people shewed beyond doubt Wednesday afternoon that they are in favor of securing the Louisville Southern railroad through this county and that they will keep up their enthusiasm and give liberally both of their time and means they will stand a good show to get it. We have it straight that the Southern people have offered to come to Danville if Boyle county will give the right of way and this the citizens of that county are making a monster effort to do so. If the road comes to Danville and we are in position to offer the right of way through Lincoln it seems to us that our chances would be most excellent. Meanwhile let us use every effort to secure such inducements as the railroad company can not afford to ignore.

THE publication of the democratic hand book for the Congressional campaign has been delayed by the discovery that in the republican book no reference is made either to Cuban reciprocity or tariff revision, and that in dealing with trusts, an attempt is made to minimize their evils. These omissions will be duly noted in the democratic book.

MR. HENRY WATTERSON says emphatically in yesterday's Courier Journal that he will not be a candidate for governor of Kentucky. "Mars Henry" has friends all over the State who regret that they can not by voice and vote help the grandest old Roman of them all into the executive chair.

THE democratic Congressional committee will send 20 Southern speakers to Maine, where a vigorous campaign will be made. This is carrying the war into Africa with a vengeance.

POLITICAL.

The republicans of the Seventh district will nominate for Congress on Oct. 7.

Allen E. Smith has retired from the race for the democratic nomination for railroad commissioner.

The State election commissioners have been called to meet at Frankfort Aug. 20 to appoint county boards.

W. G. Begley, of Hyden, was appointed circuit clerk of Leslie county, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William M. Howard.

The Illinois auxiliary of the McKinley Memorial Association reported that the fund of $50,000, asked by the people of Illinois had been raised.

The final count in the Congressional race in the Second district, gives Stanley 6,107, Brasher 5,501, Taylor 5,570, Stanley's official plurality being 516.

The British Trade Commissioners are starting home from South Africa with a discouraging report. They say trade is hampered by trusts and combines, which threaten to cripple the development of the country.

It is currently reported in Washington that President Roosevelt will call an extra session of the Senate soon after the fall elections to ratify a Cuban reciprocity treaty. The treaty, it is said, has already been prepared.

The republican Congressional committee of the First district, nominated C. H. Lyon, of Lyon county, for Congress, and the appellate district committee named P. H. Darby, of Caldwell county, for judge of the court of appeals.

Any assumption that Col. Colson feels like a house had fallen on him is absolutely without foundation. Col. Colson is quite capable of differentiating between a house and a federal office-holder. But the not result of the catastrophe is the same.—Glasgow Times.

Judge W. M. Becker announced to day that he could not accept the republican congressional nomination in the Tenth district.

On account of its failure to endorse his Cuban reciprocity views, the republican campaign text book has been suppressed by President Roosevelt and millions of copies will be burned.

Capt. T. L. Huston, a former army officer, who now represents large American interests in Cuba, states that with the refusal of Congress to grant reciprocity the only hope for the island is annexation. He says that the business interests are solidly in favor of it, but that the politicians oppose the idea.

President Roosevelt has appealed to Judge Oliver Wendell Holmes, of Massachusetts, associate justice of the supreme court to succeed Justice Gray, who resigned on account of ill health. Judge Holmes is the chief justice of the supreme court of Massachusetts and is a son and namesake of the late Dr. Holmes, the poet and essayist.

Following is the official vote of the republican primary held in the 11th Congressional district Aug. 4:
